

Bio:

Prof. Hao Deng is the Director of Center for Experimental Medicine, and Professor of Department of Neurology, The Third Xiangya Hospital, Central South University, China.

He obtained his doctoral degree from Central South University, China in 2003. He was a Post-doctor of the Department of Neurology, Baylor College of Medicine from 2004 to 2006. He was promoted to Instructor in 2006. He went back to the Third Xiangya Hospital, Central South University, and was promoted to Professor and Vice Director of the Center for Experimental Medicine in 2007. He has obtained “New Century Excellent Talent in University of Ministry of Education of P.R. China” in 2009, “Distinguished Professor of the Lotus Scholars Award Program of Hunan Province” in 2020, and “Young and Middle Aged Expert with Outstanding Contribution to National Health of P.R. China” in 2020. He has also received the “First prize of Maternal and Child Health Science and Technology Award” in 2015.

Prof. Hao Deng has published 170 SCI papers with more than 3000 citations and an H index of 28. He is the principal investigator of more than 40 research and collaborative projects.

Prof. Hao Deng’s current research fields include human genetics, neurogenetics, and clinical laboratory diagnostics.

Terms of Appointment

Jan 2021 - Jan 2025